

Time Zone Precedence

Overview

Claromentis is designed to work with multiple timezones and the following list defines the time zone precedence from the user's point of view.

1. User's time zone

Users in Claromentis can set their own location and timezone in

Change settings

From this page, it is also possible to change how Date & Time formats are displayed throughout the system.

3. PHP `date.timezone` Configuration

Timezone settings in the PHP configuration.

This configuration is not accessible by end-users or Claromentis Admin

4. Operating System Time Zone

Typically this would have defaulted to the location of the Server where Claromentis is hosted.

This configuration is not accessible by end-users or Claromentis Admin
