Description

Hi there,
We have a theme/dashboard specifically desgined for new starters and we would really like for the theme to automatically change to the default theme after circa 3 weeks of them being set up on the system.
After submitting a support ticket, I was advised to create an 'Ideas' ticket as it could also be used for festive periods or new product themes where it would be nice to put a timer or date range in place.
Kindest regards,
Lauren
