Short summary of idea*

Pop up / Modal Window function

Application/Area

Pages

Description

The ability to create a pop up dialog / image box which appears / pops up if the user selects an icon / image / text and when closed would revert to the previous page.

This would support where there was only a limited amount of information to be referenced to the item selected and wouldn't require a whole new page to be created for a small amount of information.

The rationale was that it doesn't provide a great user experience displaying a mostly empty page where a pop up / modal window would suffice.
