Email notification of announcement - to look more professional

Description
Are there any plans that allow us to make the email notification look more professional?

As currently when there is an announcement on the intranet, we receive an email notification that has "Claromentis announcement" as the subject, where as it would be good if this was amendable.

We would like to suggest claromentis admin users to be able to create a template and change the title from Claromentis Announcement and the email address?
