Description

User fields are limited to a narrow left column of the My Profile page causing some text wrapping and limiting the visual appeal of the page.

There are columns that are actually occupying some space to the right (I believe 'interests', 'endorsements', and 'career details' are hardcoded). Any changes to this wouldn't be in a stable way that would work robustly and will likely not appear as intended.

I think having this area be more customizable and not so rigid would be a great idea going forward :)
