Short summary of idea*

Capability to embed knowledge article into LMS module

Application/Area

Learning

Description

Allowing an option to embed knowledge articles into a learning module. This would be helpful to link or point to knowledge articles that have already been created, without taking the additional steps of saving it to a pdf and storing it in another folder in the Documents application.

A good use case example is for new hires. As a new hire, there may be knowledge articles out there that would give them an overview of things they would need to know upon starting.
