Expand and collapse options on Org Chart

Application/Area

OrgChart

Description

The current set up of the Org Chart is clunky to navigate. It would be nice if the Org Chart had options to expand or collapse direct reports. For example, it could start with only showing our President/CEO with a note that he has seven direct reports. Then you could click on a carat that would expand and show those direct reports, who have direct reports of their own, etc. So if I was taking a look at our Marketing Dept., I could view that portion of the Org Chart instead of having to scroll through the entire Org Chart.

The profile pages do a good job of this; they are set up to show the manager and direct reports in a way that is easily navigated. The Org Chart would be set up similarly, but with expanding and collapsing options.

I hope that makes sense. I put together a document as an example if you want to reach out. My email is jclark@verveacu.com (<mailto:jclark@verveacu.com>).

Thank you!
