Set KB sub-categories to inherit parent category permissions

Application/Area

Knowledge Base

Description

We have a couple dozen sub-categories for one of our sections, and a few different people that manage those categories. I'd love for it to be possible to have parent category permissions copy through to sub-categories. The reason we have all those the sub-categories is to help users easily navigate to info that's relevant only to them, but it's all maintained by the same people.
