Room Booking

Description

We have recently encountered an issuewhen users are making repetition bookings: the number of available desks across the series is not accurately displayed when there is unavailability on specific dates in the series. This means some trial and error is required when trying to book a series. The front-end calendar view is not easy to interact with and the admin-side is difficult to manage and find specific bookings. More filters and search options would be beneficial in the admin-side and improved functionality and user interface for the front-end.
