Having Manage Site permissions allows a user to view, edit, & delete the Site from the front-end of the Pages application (Application > Pages).

Users can also manage the Site properties, add or delete pages, and edit permissions for all pages nested within the Site.

Reminder: Please ensure only appropriate users have permission to manage a Site.

For more information on Pages permission levels, please check out our guide on Page Permissions.

Permissions

The Permissions section allows you to define the user(s) who can create a Site.

Having Create Site permissions allows a user to create new Sites from the front-end of the Pages application. Users can then manage the Site properties, add or delete pages, and edit permissions for all pages nested within the Site.

For more information on how to create sites, please check out our guide on Creating pages.

Components

The Components section is where you can create, import, edit, or delete custom components.

Components refer to application widgets that can be added to your pages.

There are a variety of components to choose from as standard. However, you can create a custom component that is specific to your intranet.

For more information on custom components, please refer to our guide on Creating Custom Components.

For more information on available components, check out our guide on Pages Component.

Please note: Custom components are created & managed client-side. If you require assistance with building a custom component, please submit a change request.
